Meeting In Canada

Kosygin's Views Related By Eaton

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

DEEP COVE, Nova Scotia (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin says the war in Vietnam is "susceptible to settlement, without the participation or endorsement of China," Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland industrialist said today in an interview.

"He was very positive about this," Eaton said.

At the same time, the financier continued, Kosygin links the Vietnamese war with the conflict between the Arabs and Israelis. The Soviet leader has demanded an "immediate withdrawal" of Israeli troops from Arab territory overrun in the fighting.

Eaton said he had a conversation lasting 4½ hours with Kosygin in Canada on June 30. The Soviet leader had conferred with President Johnson in Glassboro, N.J., and with Fidel Castro in Havana. He stopped in Canada en route to Paris where he met with President Charles de Gaulle. Eaton said Kosygin sent word to him through the Soviet Embassy in Washington, asking a meeting in Gander, Newfoundland.

THE INDUSTRIALIST said Anatoly Doylnitsyn of the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa served as the interpreter.

For more than 10 years, Eaton has been on cordial terms with the Soviet leaders. He received the Lenin Peace Prize in 1960. He frequently talked with Nikita S. Khrushchev and Anastas I. Mikoyan. Eaton said he has known Kosygin for about 10 years.

Eaton said Kosygin opened their conversation by questioning him about the state of the American economy. He said he replied, "There has been a slight falling off, but on the whole it's excellent." The discussion then turned to the presidential election next year and Kosygin asked Eaton about the potential Republican candidates. Eaton said he mentioned those in the news but Kosygin made no comment.

With respect to the Glassboro conferences, Eaton said, "He was pleased with reception in the United States and agreeably impressed with President Johnson."

"HE FELT that their meetings were constructive and helpful in terms of over-all objectives. Each presented his general view of the outstanding foreign problems."

"He is a consensus man, of course, and wants to report more fully to his associates. But I think he would welcome more talks with the President."

Eaton expressed the view that Moscow "will stand by North Vietnam with all resources, financial and military."

Two Others Hired

Jack Baker Reappointed At Southern Local High

SALINEVILLE — Jack F. Baker was named principal of Southern Local High School—a post he had resigned earlier—during Wednesday night's meeting of the school board.

Supt. Thomas Leek said others hired include:

Mrs. Margaret Ewing, elementary teacher, and Mrs. Hazel Baker, high school librarian. The resignation of Mrs. Patricia Couch, commercial teacher, was accepted. She will teach in the Minerva schools.

Bus drivers were granted a $1-a-day pay increase.

District 4-H officials were given permission to use the school for a conference Aug. 1.

The board voted to support Gov. James Rhodes on Senate Bill 350 and any additional taxes required for school finances.

The Risbeck Heating Co. of Georgetown was granted a contract for 250 feet of gas line at $825 for the Franklin School.

Anticipated receipts for 1967 are $629,712 and expenditures $617,156. In 1967, receipts totaled $607,832 and expenditures were $599,481. The cafeteria receipts totaled $54,778 and expenditures were $54,440. The bond retirement receipts totaled $61,010 and expenditures totaled $48,750.

The next meeting will be Aug. 9.

Sleepin' Was Good; Likewise Tonight!

The sleeping was better last night as the temperature obligingly dropped from the high readings of the last few days.

And even cooler weather is on tap for tonight, with the low in the 50's.

The forecast also calls for scattered showers tonight and Friday.

UN May Act On Israel's Annex Move

Assembly Expected To Ask Council For Jerusalem Return

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats predicted today that the General Assembly would adopt a Pakistani resolution asking the Security Council to force Israel to give up the Old City of Jerusalem.

Some delegates expected that several of the 15 council members might abstain or even vote against the proposal to avoid committing themselves to support such a strong measure.

The Pakistani proposal "explores the failure of Israel to implement" an earlier assembly request and "reiterates its call to Israel" to rescind its annexation measures.

Pakistani Ambassador Agha Shahi, introducing the resolution Wednesday charged that in "the flush of military success, Israel presumes to say to the assembly: 'We will go ahead with whatever we mean to do: You can say what you like.'"

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban wrote Secretary-General U Thant Monday that the term annexation was out of place for the "administrative and municipal measures" Israel took in Jerusalem after the June war.

Indicating that Israel had no intention of dissolving the merger, Eban said his government's aim is to see the holy places "integrated into the life of a Jerusalem that shall survive in unity and in spiritual elevation."

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko endorsed the Pakistani resolution and charged Israel with "insolent and provocative defiance of the United Nations." He also said the assembly must "take the most energetic measures to ensure the withdrawal of Israeli forces" from territory they occupied in Egypt, Syria and Jordan.

The assembly failed to pass such a resolution in the voting July 4 because the members were divided over a nonaligned proposal calling for an unconditional withdrawal and a Latin American resolution calling also for an end to Arab belligerency against Israel.

Sponsors of the two resolutions are trying to draft a new one that could get the two-thirds majority necessary for adoption.

Crews Reset Surveyor 4's Moon Launch

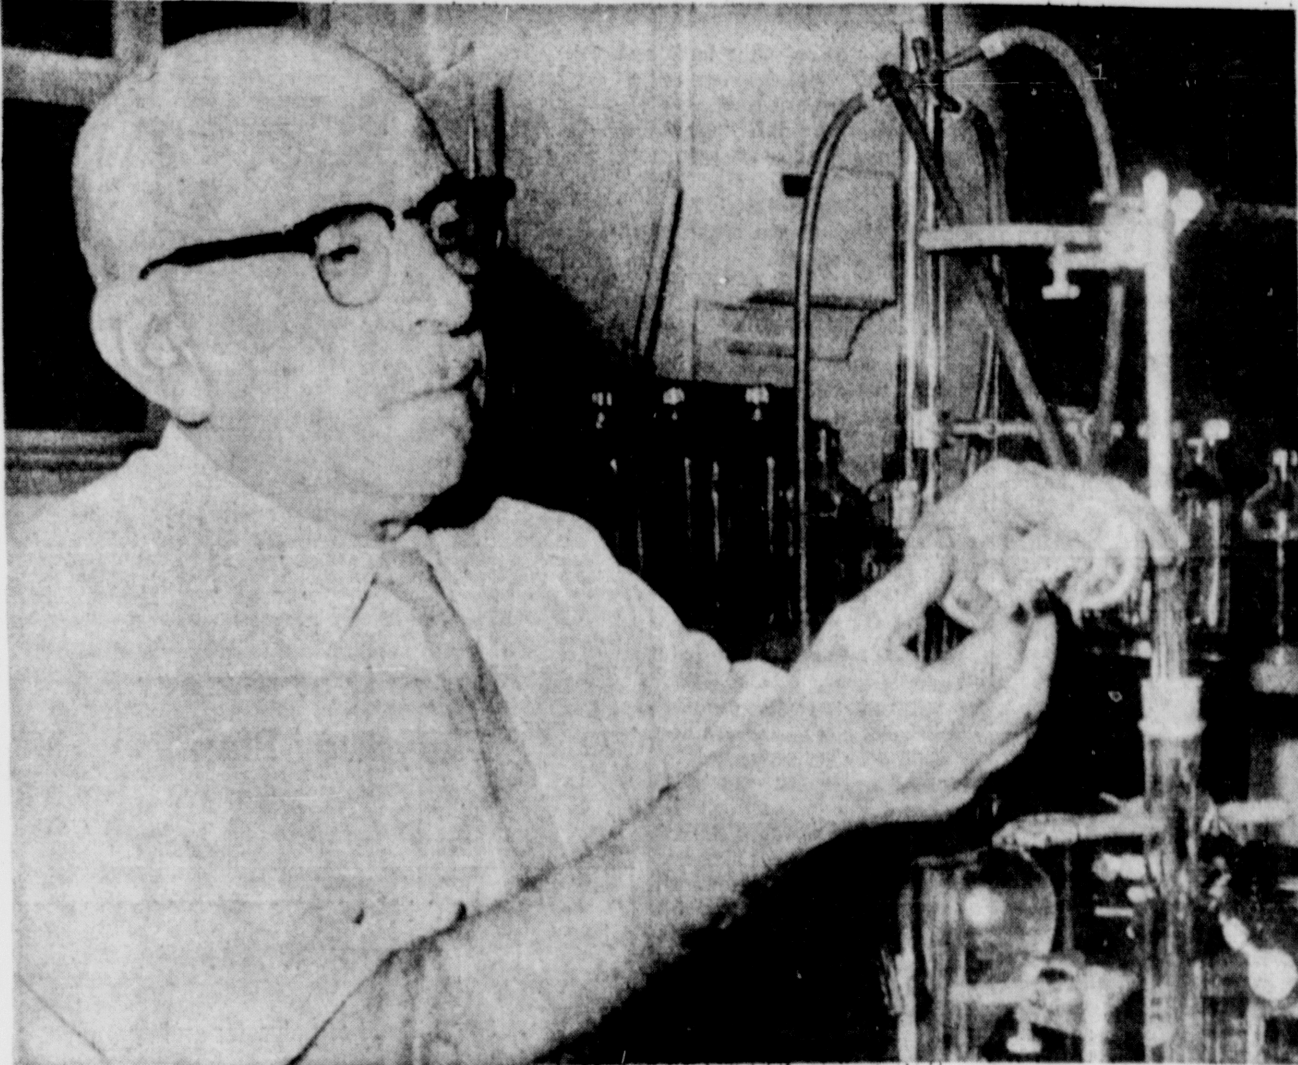

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Trouble-shooting technicians today successfully solved a rocket problem which grounded America's Surveyor 4 launch for 24 hours and were flashed an "all clear" to send the spacecraft moonward Friday.

"The problem has been solved," a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said. "Additional tests will be run today, but we don't anticipate any more trouble."

Surveyor 4's scheduled launch today was abandoned late Wednesday night after crews failed to eliminate an electrical short in the upper stage of Surveyor's Atlas-Centaur rocket. The trouble prevented a valve in Centaur's fuel-mixing system from operating properly.

The cause of the short was a loose electrical connector located in an area which was not accessible with Surveyor 4 attached to the rocket.

Mercenaries And Captives Flee Congo

Army Regains Full Control Of Airport, City Of Kisangani

BUJUMBURA, Burundi (AP) — Radio Kinshasa said today that mutinous white mercenaries and Katangan troops have pulled out of Kisangani and headed for the Uganda border, taking their European "hostages" with them.

The Congolese government announced that its army had regained full control of Kisangani, apparently ending the mutiny by hired white soldiers and Katangan troops who rebelled after ex-Premier Moise Tshombe was kidnapped and taken to Algeria.

Red Cross officials who landed in Kisangani today reported there was no sign of hostage whites. It said all the mercenaries and mutineers appeared to have fled.

Radio Kinshasa said the rebels fled in a column of 27 trucks toward Bunia, 350 miles to the northeast near Lake Albert and the Uganda border.

An estimated 20 Americans and about 150 Europeans had been reported held by rebel forces in a Kisangani hotel. The Europeans included 22 touring newsmen who by chance landed in the town just before the mutiny.

The Red Cross plane was the first to land at Kisangani since several hundred mutinous mercenaries and Katanga gendarmes occupied the airport and the center of the city July 5.

Diplomatic sources said the plane left Kinshasa, the Congo capital, before dawn for the 1,000-mile flight and landed safely. Several officials of the International Red Cross committee were on board.

Guess Who's Taking Auto Driving Lessons?

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther, known to drive a hard bargain, is learning to drive something else: a car.

Reuther expects to get his driver's license soon.

He had a license once but let it lapse in 1948 when his right arm was injured in an assassination attempt. Since then, union aides have doubled as chauffeurs and bodyguards.

More Effective

New Filter Seen Aid For Smokers

NEW YORK (AP) — After eight years of experimenting in his home laboratory, a New Jersey chemist says he has developed a new cigarette filter that "is 70 per cent more effective than conventional filters."

Robert L. Strickman, the inventor, said Wednesday he had given a controlling interest in the new filter to Columbia University.

As word of the development spread through the financial community Wednesday, tobacco stocks on the New York Stock Exchange rose sharply with closing prices up as much as $3.50.

The filter—a tasteless, white crystalline synthetic—is said to have no effect on the taste of a cigarette and to cost no more than filters now in use. Strickman claims it cuts the intake of tar and nicotine by more than two-thirds.

However, no absolute claim is made that the new filter will reduce the incidence of cancer and other diseases. Columbia is known to be hopeful of such a result and more medical tests are planned.

Strickman, 56, is president of Allied Testing and Research Laboratories in Hillsdale, N.J. He said he pursued development of the filter because both of his parents died of cancer and he felt cigarettes were a cancer-causing agent.

In 1964, a U.S. Surgeon General's advisory committee found cigarette smoke a "health hazard" and the major cause of lung cancer among smokers.

In Washington Wednesday, John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare recommended that cigarette manufacturers be forced to give consumers more specific warnings about the hazards of their products.

He said in a new report to Congress that there is more evidence now to strengthen the 1964 findings. "To say that smoking 'may be hazardous' is to ignore the overwhelming evidence that cigarette smoking is clearly hazardous to health," he said.

The Surgeon General's office assembled the updated report on health hazards based on the research of others and said it did not represent new research done by federal agencies.

Will Become Superintendent

Govey Appointed To Post By Chester Water Board

Lewis Govey of 323 Indiana Ave. was named water department superintendent when the Chester Water and Sewerage Board met Wednesday night at City Hall.

He was appointed following the resignation of Jess Selmon, who has been superintendent since 1963. Selmon, who will end his duties July 31, cited ill health.

This is the second time Govey has been named to the post. Council, when the water department was under its supervision, appointed him superintendent in 1959. He served until he resigned in 1963.

Govey said last night he would take the job on condition the water board backed him.

"I resigned once before because I had no backing," he declared, "so I will expect a lot this time."

For the past year and a half, Govey has been employed as pumper and meter reader for the department. Before assuming his duties in 1959, he was a driver for the former Valley Motor Transit Co.

The motion to appoint Govey and accept Selmon's resignation — by board member Roy Cashdollar — also carried other stipulations.

Govey will be in charge of all minor purchasing and will seek the board's approval for any major expenditures.

Cashdollar's motion also called for employees to take any problems and grievances to the superintendent before bringing

More Troops Due For Viet Combat Duty

McNamara Reports He's Still Uncertain Of Amount Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says he's "not sure how many" more U.S. troops must be sent to Vietnam, but top military officers say privately at least 25,000 are required just to regain lost momentum.

McNamara, back from his ninth trip to Vietnam, told President Johnson Wednesday more Americans must be dispatched to the war-torn Southeast Asian nation. He said there's no need to call up reserves, however.

The subject was expected to be at the top of the list again today at a meeting of the National Security Council. Expected to join that session is Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam, who flew into Washington Wednesday night after attending his mother's funeral in Columbia, S.C.

He said on arrival that "if we have additional men, the result would be a greater pressure being brought to bear on the enemy."

Military officers contend the U.S. war effort has lost momentum in recent weeks due to troop shifts toward Vietnam's so-called demilitarized zone. They say privately the manpower decisions now under consideration at the White House will determine whether the war's progress moves at its current pace, slows off or picks up.

Monday Ruling Slated For Ohio 'Giveaways'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe will rule Monday on the validity of giveaways by service stations and supermarkets, an operation which he terms a multi-million dollar business.

In question is whether they violate the state's lottery laws.

Most of the giveaways are matching games. The customer gets half of an item — play money or a card with historical scenes. Cash is given if the customer matches his half with another given with a later purchase.

Bombers Hit Red Targets In 3 Strikes

Assaults Directed On Enemy Artillery And Fortifications

SAIGON (AP) Waves of B52 bombers pounded North Vietnamese positions inside the demilitarized zone today for the first time in two months.

The giant bombers, each carrying 50,000 pounds of explosives, made three raids during the day on the northern half of the six-mile-wide zone between North and South Vietnam.

Their targets were the fortifications and artillery positions from which the North Vietnamese have been inflicting a heavy toll on U.S. Marine and South Vietnamese units just below the zone.

This toll was reflected in weekly casualty figures announced today which showed 262 Americans killed last week, the third highest death count for a seven-day period this year. But the U.S. Command said 2,114 Communist troops were killed last week, nearly double the 1,331 reported killed the week before and the highest enemy weekly toll in a month.

It was also reported that 1,170 U.S. servicemen were wounded and one was missing last week. South Vietnamese casualties were 158 killed, 460 wounded and 29 missing.

The U.S. Command reported an increase of 1,000 men last week in the number of American troops in South Vietnam, raising the total of 465,000. The strength of other foreign allied forces remained at 54,000 and the estimate of enemy strength also was unchanged at 296,000.

The B52 raids on the demilitarized zone highlighted a day of otherwise light action in South Vietnam.

In the meantime, U.S. Marines made a 10-day ground sweep inside the zone in late May and small tactical bombers have pounded enemy artillery positions inside and just above the zone almost daily. In resuming the B52 strikes, U.S. commanders apparently felt the risk of missiles had been removed or greatly reduced.

Just below the zone, South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 76 Communist troops in brisk fighting on Wednesday near the forward allied outpost at Gio Linh.

The South Vietnamese reported their own casualties were light in the 4½-hour fight about five miles below the demilitarized zone.

In the U.S. air offensive against North Vietnam, Air Force bombers returned to the MIG airbase at Hoa Lac 20 miles west of Hanoi Wednesday.

Carried Away In Carry-Out

"Did you think they were having a one-cent sale?" Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff inquired today when he was confronted with charges against Lawrence B. Mathes of 121 Market St., accused of buying a 65-cent bottle of wine in a carry-out store and stealing another of the same value.

Mathes was cited at 11:15 p. m. Wednesday by Patrolman David Maw at Al's Atlantic Station on E. 3rd St., which has a beer and wine carry-out license. Studying Mathes' police record after the man pleaded to the theft charge, the judge added: "It appears that you only steal when you are drinking or drink when you are stealing."

Mathes was sentenced to 10 days in County Jail.

Rail Unions May Balk At Latest Plan

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees, threatened with a nationwide rail strike unless they act by Saturday on antistrike legislation, are considering a compromise plan that actually may lead to a walkout.

Six shopcraft unions, previously blocked twice by Congress from carrying out a threatened strike, say they will withdraw their current no-strike pledge if the conferees fail to agree by the end of this week on a plan to avert a strike.

But the compromise now under consideration would put into effect a five-man board's recommendations for a settlement unless they were rejected by both houses of Congress. The unions consider such a settlement to be compulsory arbitration, which a union leader says probably would lead to an immediate strike.

"We could be on strike in 20 minutes" if Congress enacts legislation to force a wage settlement, President P.L. "Roy" Siemiller of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists said Wednesday. The Machinists Union is one of those threatening a walkout.

The conferees are trying to compromise between a Senate-passed bill, which follows administration proposals for compulsory settlement, and the House version, which merely would extend for 90 days the period during which a strike is prohibited.

Under the proposed compromise, the board's recommendations would take effect after 90 days unless rejected by both houses of Congress.

The six unions—also including electricians, boilermakers, sheet metal workers, carmen and firemen and others—are demanding a 6.5 per cent pay hike this year and 5 per cent next year, plus 12.5 cents an hour in each of the two years for skilled workers. They now average $2.94 an hour, with skilled workers earning up to $3.05 an hour.

The railroads have offered a 6 per cent hike for an 18-month agreement plus a five-cent skill increase.

them to the board. Cashdollar claimed some employees have been guilty of playing politics with members to get projects accomplished and have completely circumvented the superintendent in the past.

The motion also stipulated a previous board ruling requiring meter readers to alternate books of residents each time is to be strictly enforced.

CASHDOLLAR asked that a copy of the motion be given each employee.

Board member Charles Kology said Selmon's last check, which was due on June 30, was held up and pointed out that matter should have come before the board.

Mayor Burton Ward said he would accept the blame for the error.

The position of pumper and meter reader is now open, members noted, but on Govey's advice decided against appointing a new man immediately. Govey said the department is presently pressed for funds and part-time help can fill the gap until the situation is eased.

IN OTHER business, the board heard two complaints from residents concerning water service bills.

Arnold Wright of 359 Carolina Ave. and Mrs. P. H. Bolin of Montana Ave. both declared they have experienced exceptionally high water bills recently and declared they have not used a great deal of water.

Board members pointed out many bills have been estimated low for so long that higher bills will be experienced for a short time while the readings catch up with the estimates.

It was pointed out it takes two accurate readings to clarify a situation and to determine whether there is anything wrong with a resident's water system.

Govey told the board the department has started using postcards which permit a resident to fill out his own reading if the meter reader finds no one at home. Thus, he said, such situations soon should be corrected.

Board member Russ Davis said that if the meters have to be estimated in the future, he feels they should be estimated high instead of low as has been the case in the past.

THREE residents from the Lycia Ave. area in Lawrenceville asked the board to consider providing that section with water service. They will not be covered by the new Lawrenceville Public Service District.

Mayor Ward said he has received a bid from the McKee company which is installing the Lawrenceville system. The cost of bringing the water line from Liberty Ave. to Lycia would be $3,075. But, he pointed out, this would not include running lines to the individual homes along the streets involved.

Cashdollar said he believes if Lawrenceville provides the water it could benefit in increased revenues.

It was suggested McKee should be asked for an estimate on a line from 9th and Carolina Ave.

Cashdollar suggested, however, it might cost the residents less if Chester provided the water.

Members agreed to look into the situation. A representative of the Ray Master Co. demonstrated a checkwriting device costing $149.50.

Kology suggested the money might be better spent to buy parts for the sewage plant and water department.

Members agreed to study the possible purchase of the machine.

THE BOARD authorized a request of $10,500 from the state's sinking fund for repairs and the installation of a new emergency pumping unit at the east end pumping station expected to cost $9,707.74.

Members stipulated the repairs would be authorized only on condition they decide what firm will install the pump which is now on order.

The Pennsylvania Drilling Co. is scheduled to install the pump at a cost of $3,290.

Cashdollar said he believes the city should have requested bids on the work in the beginning.

He also commented that it would be a good idea to have enough surplus money to obtain a local firm to repair the 1st St. station. Originally, it was to have been renovated, but the drilling firm discouraged such a course, calling it too costly and time consuming.

A LETTER from Cerrone and Vaughn, consulting engineers for the sewage plant project who also are working on the Lawrenceville water district, was received, advising the board of the necessary spare parts which should be purchased to guard against any emergency. The firm suggested money might come from funds still in the plant's construction account.

Plant operator Leonard Cowey said in addition a $600 pump is needed for one which is nearly out of service.

Cowey discussed his position as the result of Govey's appointment and pointed out the two have worked well together in the past.

Cowey said he feels the motion proposed by Cashdollar takes away additional authority from the sewage plant operator. Cashdollar, however, said he feels such is not the situation. He suggested Cowey wait until a problem arises.

The board authorized Cowey to attend school at West Virginia University in Morgantown Aug. 14-18. The course is in preparation for a state examination now required of all West Virginia sewage plant operators.

2 Boys Cited In Theft Deny Vandalism Count

Two brothers, 9 and 11, who were cited for the theft of a $30 pair of binoculars from a parked auto on the River Rd. have denied they were responsible for vandalism last Friday night at a boat dock a short distance away, police said.

Dohrman Treadway of 347 Grant St. reported the theft of the binoculars at 7 p. m. Tuesday. He told officers a thief had pried open a vent window in the car and removed the binoculars from the front seat. About an hour later, Treadway told officers he had located the binoculars and pointed out two boys who, he said, were responsible for the theft.

Police said the two boys admitted the theft, but denied they were responsible for looting cupboards at Treadway's boat dock late last week. Two docked boats also were ransacked in the same incident. Treadway decided not to prosecute in the binocular theft because the property was recovered, officers said.

Needed-Time Machine

The long and the short of it are to be reviewed by Columbiana County school administrators at a luncheon meeting Aug. 18 at Lisbon — the long of it being hair on boys and the short of it being skirts on girls and women teachers.

The length of youths' hair has been a matter of warm discussion in homes and school buildings across the U.S. in the past few years, as has the rising hemline of the feminine skirt.

Issues involved are individual rights, decency, moderation, style, distraction, maturity and a host of other factors of conduct and appearance.

Young people today seemingly have more freedoms than ever before, including the one they cherish most—self expression.

But they still need guidance, examples of taste, forms of social behavior which will be important to them when they are adults, the establishment of which are not infringements on their rights, but merely a molding of their attitudes toward standards of propriety.

The school administrators may be placing themselves on the spot by setting limitations, but certainly extremism has no place in the necessarily disciplined environment of secondary education.

If only there were a means of time projection to enable some of our teen-agers to view themselves from the perspective of 15 years hence, the problem no doubt would be solved.

Any Better Suggestions?

Among the eager critics jumping on the liberal Republicans' plan for mutual de-escalation of the Vietnam War by five steps there is not a single one offering a more feasible plan.

Militarists can think only of more billions, more lives, more agony, more time.

Fluttering doves can think only of an all-out retreat that would precipitate chaos.

Political wheeler-dealers can think of nothing but playing their trade of punching, counter-punching, wheedling, cajoling and hoping for something to turn up.

Eight liberal Republican representatives have put their support, on the other hand, behind a plan that could work if North Vietnam wanted to ease out of a war it can no more afford to fight indefinitely than the United States can afford to fight indefinitely.

The merit of their plan is that it gives no advantage to either combatant that it does not give to both combatants. They would agree to taper off military violence in five separate steps, until fighting had ceased. There would be no victory, no defeat. There would be a détente—a truce.

But the merit of the plan—its dependence on gradual de-escalation—shows the weakness of the U.S. position in Vietnam. This government is wholly dependent on a never-declared enemy for the decision that could end the war. De-escalation is the prerogative of North Vietnam, the Viet Cong and their backers. The United States has no power of decision.

If the other side refuses to ease out of the war, the United States will remain trapped in a military dilemma that can reflect nothing but discredit on the military minds that drifted into it and now have not the slightest idea how to wriggle out of it.

Ban The Bombers

Certain aspects of Ohio and Pennsylvania trade relations apparently are becoming somewhat strained, according to reports — or rather, detonations — from Pittsburgh way.

Homes of two men described as key numbers racket figures were bombed early Wednesday, and a telephone call from an informant later in the day indicated the explosives were planted as "a warning to stay out of Youngstown."

Youngstown is not notably an unfriendly community other than to those who fail to respect the proper syndicate pecking order and geographic arrangements of gambling and vice franchises.

The Mahoning County metropolis, trying to live down its onetime designation as "Bombtown U.S.A.," is to be commended for educating its citizenry to go into the export business.

However, Pittsburghers are justified in opposing this new policy as a violation of its anti-air pollution drive which enabled them to dispose of the "Smoky City" monicker.

In any event, we in Columbiana County and Beaver County — midpoints between the two antagonistic numbers factions — do not choose to become a "no-man's land" for the dynamite tossers. It would violate our anti-noise ordinances, and we wouldn't get a bang out of it.

Wanna Buy A Bridge?

A basic difference in the American and British temperament is pointed up in the City of London's decision to sell jolly old London Bridge.

Faced with the same problem of having a tired bridge on its hands, any American city worthy of its urban renewal grants would tear it down and build a spanking new marvel of architecture.

Not those British!

Tear down London Bridge? Blimey! It's only 136 years old!

It's good for at least another 136 years. It may no longer be adequate for modern-day traffic across the Thames, but tear it down? Why?

So the good people of London Town put their history-crammed heads together and came up with a better solution. Sell it.

Why not? Somebody might want to buy it. Offer it for sale and see what happens.

Some eccentric Texas oil man might buy it for kicks. Some richly endowed historical society might buy it to preserve for posterity.

What's London Bridge worth? Who knows? Find out what the Americans have been getting for the Brooklyn Bridge. They've sold it countless times.

What do you do with it if you do buy it? Well, you could charge a toll and get your money back. You could close it and have it for your very own. You could move it. But that would involve finding a river to fit your bridge. Who knows?

These British are really something.

Turnpike In A-1 Condition

Rehabilitation of the Ohio Turnpike at a cost of many millions of dollars will be undertaken by the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

Agreement on this significant policy is of direct interest to all motorists, especially Ohio motorists. The Turnpike will be added to the Ohio freeway system before 1980, if its income continues to increase at its present rate. Long-term bonds that could run until 1992 will be payable by 1979 — only 13 years from now — if all goes well. The Turnpike is paying for itself ahead of time.

The tremendously important option of intensive and extensive maintenance is the principle thing that differentiates toll roads from freeways.

Once freeways are in use, they stand in danger of long-term deterioration that ultimately can destroy their value. This is true not only of costly freeways but of public buildings and public works whose maintenance costs have not been provided for in public revenue.

Deterioration, accelerating with the passage of time, finally overtakes even a liberal allowance for maintenance and ultimately leaves it in the lurch. Belatedly, it is discovered an emergency exists, whereupon there is a frantic scramble to uncover funds in sufficient amount to make massive repairs that should have been made piecemeal.

If Ohio takes over its famous Turnpike in A-1 condition, it will have been a miracle. It looks as if the miracle might actually come to pass. The A-1 condition is being provided for—now.

'Pass The Salt And Pepper, Of Buddy?'

Help Wanted

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

One of the fascinating offshoots of the Israeli-Arab war in the sudden interest now being shown by the different intelligence agencies in recruiting Egyptian military officers.

The Middle East is teeming with recruiters, all of whom are competing with each other for the services of the elite Egyptian army and air force corps.

My informant, who just returned from Cairo, told me, "The CIA has a shopping list which calls for 150 Egyptian generals and 230 colonels. They'll even take more if they can get them."

"What does the CIA want to do with them?"

"It's my understanding that they want to drop them on North Vietnam to advise the Ho forces on how to win the war."

"What an ingenious scheme. With the Egyptians advising the North Vietnamese, the war will be over in no time."

"Exactly. But the CIA is having trouble. The Soviet Union also has a recruiting team in Cairo. They're trying to sign up the entire Egyptian general staff and send it through a third country into Red China. If they can get enough Egyptian generals working with the Red Chinese, the Russians can neutralize Red China without firing a shot."

"THE SOVIETS are always trying to get into the act," I said.

"That isn't all. The Indians are trying to recruit some Egyptian officers to give to the Pakistanis as a gift, and the Albanians are trying to get an Egyptian general to head up the Yugoslav war college. There are so many demands being made for Egyptian military know-how that Nasser is getting very worried."

"Why doesn't the CIA recruit its Egyptian officers from the ones captured by the Israelis in the war?"

"Because the Israelis are dead set against the Egyptian officers going back to any country other than Egypt."

"But why?" I asked.

"Nasser has promised that he will fight Israel again. The Israelis want the same Egyptian officers in command of Egypt's armed forces if hostilities break out again. That is why Israel is treating them so well. The Israelis are even making wholesale trades—10,000 Egyptian officers for one Israeli corporal cook—just so the Egyptian officers will be back at their commands before renewed fighting breaks out. As a matter of fact, the Israelis tell many officers escape in the Sinai so they could return to Cairo and start rebuilding the army."

"Israel knows what it's doing," I said.

"THE CIA is getting some of the stragglers, but the top officers, the ones who planned the defense of the Sinai, are hard to come by because they're so much in demand."

"Couldn't the CIA recruit Egyptian officers from those who can't return to Cairo because they handled their assignments so badly?"

"No. You see, in the retreat the generals who fouled up the most got to Cairo first, so they were able to tell their version of what happened before the rest of the army got home. In order for Nasser to stay in power, he had to back them up. So the one who goofed the most, and have the greatest value to the intelligence agencies, are still in their jobs."

"Wouldn't it be a wonderful world if all the armies were staffed by Egyptian officers?" I said.

"That, my informant said, 'is the only solution to peace in our time.'"

TRUMAN TWILL

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Thank you for the photographs of your Aunt Effie, me and the house.

The ones of the house were a surprise. We didn't know you took them. It surprised us to see our rural pocket of poverty looking so handsome in the eye of the camera.

We could wish the camera eye had done the same for us.

It's funny about pictures of yourself. . . .

Before movies and television, people looked the way they were, with no invidious comparisons. Women did not know how Elizabeth Taylor looked. They did not know how John Wayne looked.

There was no standard of beauty and handsomeness, other than the standards in a locality. Here at the Corners I was regarded as a fairly good-looking girl, and your Aunt Effie was thought of as a fine-looking gal.

That appraisal, of course, was parochial. What we didn't know didn't hurt us. We never winced when we looked in the mirror.

Then came movies and all the women wished they looked like Mable Normand, Mary Pickford and Theda Bara. Men wished we had been made to look like Doug Fairbanks and Lionel Barrymore.

Later on, a whole flock of photogenic people came along to put us humpty-dumpties in the shade. But let me tell you, nothing grinds us into the dust like a picture of ourselves as others see us.

We're reconciled to our mediocrity relative to the pictorial pace-setters of the day. But we are not aware of our total inferiority until we see untouched photographs of our ugliness.

Surely these cannot be faces that launched a thousands quips—faces that made tender hearts beat faster, melted the glacial chill of strangers and were gazed on with approval by countless thousands in the course of our lengthening lifetimes.

Were I to see myself depicted in the center of a group, I would say there stands a soul so wretched in appearance his very soul must feel as if it, too, had just swallowed a quince.

With due respect to sweet Effie, I would say, "Poor dear, she could not have known the toll life would take from her during a lifetime of taking in washings to support a no-account husband and fill the mouths of her hungry brood."

We are having the pictures of the house framed for display on suitable occasions, such as next winter when our pocket of poverty looks like a scene from the childhood of Nikita Khrushchev.

We are hiding the pictures of ourselves and trying to erase from our egos the shock of electric reality. You could have destroyed the pictures in the dark room, you know.

You should have. But we love you anyway and have a picture of you as a baby gurgling on a bearskin rug that does you no credit in any way, shape, or form, whatsoever. We'll get it out on your next visit.

In The South

The American people sooner or later may understand the pertinent facts about the Vietnam War.

But individuals, including members of Congress, offering plans to stop bombing North Vietnam certainly are not aware this is the least relevant of the influences which can bring peace.

The real struggle is not in North Vietnam. It is in South Vietnam, where the Viet Cong — the revolutionary faction aided by the Communists and North Vietnamese — is struggling to get possession of the area.

The South Vietnamese are fighting to preserve their independence, but the enemy — including infiltrators numbering more than 100,000 — are trying to get control.

How many Americans know the United States has only 88,000 combat infantrymen in Vietnam out of more than 460,000 in America's armed services in that war zone?

Included in the total are some 56,000 Air Force and 25,000 Navy personnel. Of the 75,000 Marines, there are only 18 combat-maneuver battalions.

IT TAKES an enormous logistic establishment to support not only the American troops and those of South Vietnam but also those of South Korea and other allied nations.

The monthly supply of petroleum alone runs to nearly 118,000,000 gallons. Between 14,000 and 15,000 tons of supplies are moved every day.

More than 15 jet-length runways are in operation, 25 hospitals, and 29 deep-draft piers and berths. All this has been built in the last two years.

American troops rarely go without a hot meal. The number of persons needed for supply and combat support constitutes the biggest part of America's forces in South Vietnam, but Gen. Westmoreland wants more fighting men.

Merely to stop bombing around Hanoi would not necessarily affect the outcome in South Vietnam, but would just make things easier for North Vietnam.

Infiltration of North Vietnamese into South Vietnam runs about 6,500 a month. Despite losses, the Communists still have available for battle around 50,000 North Vietnamese troops and about 50,000 main-force Viet Cong.

This means the Communists have been able to keep their forces at an even level, despite casualties in battle.

All this points up the need for more American troops.

U.S. Marines in the northern provinces are spread thin and need at least one full division to keep pace with the Communist buildup in that part of the country, just below the Demilitarized Zone.

THIS SUMMARY was derived from a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report with Wendell S. Merick of its staff, who has returned after a lengthy period in Vietnam.

He declares that military operations could be carried on more intensively if the United States had a total of 750,000 troops instead of 460,000 and that additional men are needed to seize territory from the enemy and hold it.

As matters stand, he says, the combined armies in South Vietnam have effective control of not more than 25 per cent of the area. This is why more troops maneuver battalions and helicopter units have become essential.

Half of the South Vietnamese army battalions are assigned to security work, and it takes a lot of time to train infantrymen to do anti-guerrilla work.

American military leaders would prefer to see a concentration on winning the military effort rather than spending so much time on "pacification" tasks.

A ray of hope in the whole situation is the probability the South Vietnamese government which is to be elected later this year may get together directly with the Communists and work out a settlement.

Rumors are current that the South Vietnamese have been in communication with the Viet Cong as well as with the Hanoi regime in an attempt to reach some form of agreement among themselves. Conversations have begun.

Meanwhile, it is American policy to continue the fighting and to maintain good supply lines. This is far more important than discussions about bombing North Vietnam.

Music To Fill The Air At Annual County Fair

LISBON — Seven high school bands and the county 4-H band will play during the 122nd annual Columbiana County Fair Aug. 23-27.

Mrs. Velma Cope, fair directors' secretary, said Beaver Local, Columbiana, Leetonia, Southern Local and West Branch bands will participate in a concert Sunday afternoon. On the same program will be baton-twirling units and the Lisbon Humorettes in a variety show.

The county 4-H band will play Wednesday — opening day. High school bands scheduled for daily appearances are Lisbon, Thursday; East Palestine, Friday; and Southern, Saturday.

Ben Weingart of Leetonia, president, presided for the directors' meeting Wednesday night at the secretary's office.

Jerry Ward of New Waterford attended as a representative of the Junior Fair Board and reported on its progress with painting. He said the 17-member junior board has averaged a turnout of 11 for the painting detail every other Monday. They have completed painting the coliseum and bleachers and will begin painting the fence around the race track. He said they hope to paint the 4-H dairy barn before the fair.

Mrs. Cope said anyone who has not received a premium book should contact her at 376 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon. Approximately 500 books have been mailed. The total of all premiums, including granges and Junior Fair, is $15,000.

The Lyle Printing & Publishing Co. of Salem has promised to have the program books ready for the directors' next meeting July 26, Mrs. Cope said.

Directors announce that farmers and gardeners may obtain free manure at the horse barns where horses were stabled during the winter.

Engineers Hold Up Action On 'Kennedy Park' Lease

Richard Nugent of the Army Corps of Engineers Wednesday instructed Hancock County commissioners to hold up any action on the leasing of Kennedy Park to Martin Gluchow of East Liverpool and his associates until the engineers forward a letter on recommended changes for the leasing.

Meanwhile, Gluchow has begun cleanup work and is operating the park on a verbal agreement reached with the commissioners until a formal lease is approved.

Any arrangement made by the commissioners for leasing of the park must be approved by the engineers.

Gluchow met with Nugent earlier to work out the terms of the lease which were supposedly approved, but in a telephone conference with the commissioners yesterday Nugent said there are still changes to be made.

He told commissioners a letter would be sent informing them of the proposed changes. Money collected at the park between now and the time the lease is finally approved will be invested in the property, commissioners said.

Most of the proposed changes involve control of the park.

In other business, Jack Evans, court president, read a letter from the State Road Commission in reply to a letter by Robert B. Evans of Newell complaining about conditions of rural roads in the Newell area. The road commission said it will investigate the roads.

A motion from Edward No-gay was passed authorizing Evans to instruct the county clerk to prepare and advertise the county financial statement for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1966, which ended June 30.

George Konchar, clerk, informed commissioners work has already begun on preparation of the statement and it will be completed by Aug. 1.

Congressmen Hit 'Ditch' Stand By 'Reader's Digest'

WASHINGTON (AP)—An article in Reader's Digest entitled "Mike Kirwan's Big Ditch"—a story about the proposed Ohio River-Lake Erie canal, was taken to task in Congress Wednesday.

Rep. B. F. Sisk, D-Calif., who led the attack, said the June article pictured members of Congress as "blind, begging gutless robbers of the taxpayer" who played pork barrel politics to enrich their own districts.

The article referred to the project as a vast boondoggle the House approved due to the influence of Rep. Michael Kirwan, D-Ohio, chairman of the Public Works appropriations subcommittee, and a dispenser of Democratic campaign funds. Kirwan is a primer backer of the canal.

Sisk criticized the magazine's publisher, Dewitt Wallace, calling Reader's Digest his "personal propaganda sheet." Sisk also said the attack is untimely since lobbyists and magazine publishers have been pressing congressmen to help keep postal rates from rising.

Eleven members of the House joined Sisk in praising Kirwan and condemning the article.

DAV Meeting Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 47th annual state convention of the Disabled American Veterans will be held here Friday through Sunday.

Post Installs New Flagpole

A new flagpole has been installed at the home of American Legion Post 70 of Wells-ville, Dorman Householder reported during a meeting Monday.

A new iron railing for the porch and other work is anticipated, he said, including the planting of more pine trees.

Sam Maylone said 15 seats remain available for a bus going to the state convention at Cincinnati. The bus will leave July 22, the time to be announced.

Those attending are to bring a coverdish and table service.

A report from the audit committee was given. Fred Huston is chairman and Kenneth Hoover and James Ralston are members.

The trailer court committee will present plans soon. Ed James and Harold Dickinson, co-chairmen, reported.

William Boyce is investigating the possibility of obtaining a plaque for the building with pertinent facts of the post's history.

Harry Excell, adjutant, said new membership for 1968 is available.

A dance will be held Saturday at the post home, with Russ Ludwig and the Blue Shades providing the music.

Weirton Man Named; New CAC Post Set Up

Michael (Dick) Yurko of Weirton was re-elected president of the Hancock County Community Action Council, Inc., and an employment committee was formed for the purpose of hiring a community developer for the local council during the meeting Wednesday in Weirton.

Fr. Stephen Natsis was re-elected vice president; Oliver Johnson, secretary, and Clarence Rice, treasurer.

The job of community developer has been created through the formation of the multi-county Northern West Virginia Community Action Association, Inc. The position was previously labeled program director, but with the forming of the new organization it has been reclassified, with the duties also altered.

Ronald Wilson, who last night announced his intention to resign, has been serving as program director.

Volunteering and appointed to the employment committee were Clayton Jennings Jr., chairman; Harold Proudfoot, Robert Rujak, Rice and Yurko.

Applications for the post, which pays $475 a month, will be accepted at the council office in Weirton.

Any county resident desiring to apply should send a resume of qualifications to Yurko in care of that office.

The only educational requirement is a high school diploma. Deadline for applications is July 31.

Roland Brown reported that a group of residents met with Mayor Frank A. Rybka to discuss the participation of the mayor's office in the Community Action program. Brown noted neither the mayor nor a representative of his office has attended any of the meetings held by the council. He said Rybka claimed the duties of his office were "too pressing" to permit him time to attend the sessions, but that he would attempt to find a representative, preferably a councilman, to attend.

A motion was approved for the transferring of $3,000 remaining in the treasury of the local council to the multi-county organization.

6 Power Firms Use New 'Loop' Over Five States

One of the largest electric power transmission loops in the world — a 540-mile circle encompassing parts of five states and involving six electric utilities, including the Ohio Power Co. — is now in service.

Three investor-owned electric utility systems today announced the first use of the extra-high-voltage transmission loop, covering parts of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Ohio.

The 540-mile loop of 500,000-volt and 345,000-volt lines was completed when the newest section of the five-state circuit was put into service: a 74-mile, 500,000-volt line connecting the Fort Martin Plant near Morgantown, W. Va., and the Mount Storm Plant in Grant County, W. Va.

The utilities involved are: Appalachian Power and Ohio Power companies of the American Electric Power System; Monongahela Power, Potomac Edison and West Penn power companies of the Allegheny Power System, and Virginia Electric and Power Company.

The three systems together serve a population of 12 million in an area of 110,000 square miles covering parts of 10 states including, in addition to the five previously mentioned, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, North Carolina and Tennessee.

A. N. Prentice, executive vice president of Ohio Power, said that the loop's closing will have three major benefits for the three power systems and their customers: (1) Augment reliability of bulk power supply, (2) provide additional opportunities for economies of operation, and (3) improve mutual assistance in emergencies.

Mt. Nebo Grange To Enter Display In County's Fair

LISBON — Mt. Nebo Grange voted Wednesday night to enter a display in the Columbiana County Fair Aug. 23-27 and to reorganize the Junior Grange.

Howard Wilhelm, master, presided and read an invitation for the local grange to attend "Grange Day" Saturday at the Auburn Township sesquicentennial celebration in Geauga County.

After a general discussion, the members directed the secretary to write letters to the district congressman and senator stating their objection to imports of dairy products.

Mrs. Viola Harrold, lecturer, presented a program on the theme "Four Great Hymns." The centennial candle was lighted by Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Boehm, assistant steward and lady assistant steward, and Mrs. Howard Wilhelm offered prayer.

Nuclear Pact Delay Seen Due To Cool Red Attitude

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say the Soviet Union may delay a proposed treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons because of further opposition to U.S. foreign policy.

These officials expected a final draft treaty to be drawn up shortly after the Glassboro, N.J., summit conference last month between President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

But there now are indications the draft will not be submitted until after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko returns to Moscow from New York where he is attending a United Nations debate on the Middle East.

Coupled with Soviet cancellation of a scheduled U.S. tour for a Soviet dance group, some U.S. authorities see the nonproliferation treaty delay as part of a pattern of deliberate Kremlin recalcitrance on dealings with the United States.

The State Department said

Wednesday the Soviets had postponed indefinitely the visit of the 200-member dance troupe because of the "international situation." The summer tour was to be part of the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program.

Washington officials believe the cancellation is intended as a further display of Soviet opposition to U.S. policy in the Middle East and Vietnam.

There is speculation in U.S. government ranks now about how tough an anti-U.S. line the Soviets will pursue in coming months. It is believed here that a debate is under way among Soviet leaders on domestic, military and foreign affairs issues, with the outcome likely to affect U.S.-Soviet relations.

Public agreement on the importance of a nonproliferation pact was a highlight of the Glassboro talks. Provisions of the proposed treaty had been the subject of extended discussions between the two nuclear powers.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN
Cut Appetite Down To Size

Teens and pre - teens with weight woes, tune in. A 14-year-old girl laments:

"I'm so fat it's pitiful. I just can't force myself to stop eating. I haven't any will power. I am 5 feet 2 and going for 140 pounds. Help!"

First, state your problem right and you can get a better perspective. You need to stop overeating. With the right approach and good nutrition, you can work a miracle. Stretch your mind to a new dimension. You can't win by saying limply that you haven't any will power. Pull out of that self - defeating rut right now. Will power equates with setting a goal that you prize. What do you want?

EAGER expectation is a natural when you're young. Expect to enjoy streamlining. Enjoy — that's a wonderful word, for it means satisfaction in experiencing. Expect to like the way you feel when you do not stuff.

Tonight at dinner wear a leather belt, just comfortably snug. Put a small plate at your place at the table, and help yourself to one modest portion of everything served. Wait... don't gulp! Taste each mouthful of food intensively and swallow all of it before you fork into more food.

Don't be a two - fisted eater... fork in one hand, bread in the other. That's eating on the double. At first you will need to try consciously to slow your rate of eating. Then you'll begin to get the added rewards of eating more slowly.

Do not keep on eating until you know you have a stomach! Actually it isn't comfortable to continue eating until you feel full. Twenty minutes later you feel too full. It takes time to appease appetite. With fast eating you overshoot the mark. After you are away from the table, you feel content and in control.

APPLY winning psychology. When you say "No, thank you" to second helpings and fattening desserts, what are you giving up? The excess pounds. Self-denial?

No. You are working with your will to get what you really want. Say to yourself, "My happiness isn't in sitting and stuffing myself full of food! I want to get out of the fat class and have two bids to the next prom."

Aim toward a goal. With a new attitude you'll be set free! This happens and it's magic!

French Push Proposal For Profit Share

PARIS (AP) — The French Cabinet agreed Wednesday on principles of President Charles de Gaulle's controversial plan to give workers a share in their employers' profits.

De Gaulle presided over the meeting, which left a number of details in the profit-sharing plan still to be worked out, a government spokesman said.

The plan would be mandatory for large firms and voluntary for smaller ones, but the dividing line between large and small has yet to be decided, the official said. He said there was no suggestion of workers participating in running the businesses.

Workers for large firms are to receive shares of stock in their companies. Employees of medium-sized firms will receive money to be placed into a special interest-bearing investment fund to be used by the firms. Workers for small firms are to have their share of the profits put into a national fund for investment in private French enterprises.

Another Hearing Set For Friday On Water Setup

LISBON — A hearing on objections to assessments for the proposed St. Clair Township water project will resume at 10 a.m. Friday in Common Pleas Court.

Eighty attended an all - day hearing on the assessment June 29. Columbiana County commissioners are in charge, assisted by George S. Bloomgren, East Liverpool engineer who prepared the plans, and a representative of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland legal firm arranging the financing.

Before the commissioners is a 367-name petition against the $3-per-front-foot charge. The petitioners are represented by Alfred Fitch, Salem attorney.

Asking for a two-week continuance June 29, Fitch suggested the commissioners consider putting more county money into the project and try to get East Liverpool to reduce the rate it will charge for water.

Fitch said the two - week delay would give objectors an opportunity to arrange for assessment hearings with the county commissioners. Only six or seven persons came to the commissioners' office for hearings.

Commissioners have the power to reduce assessments in hardship cases, but the law says requests for hearings have to be filed within five days after the end of the public hearing.

Lausche Weighs Viet Alternatives

WASHINGTON (AP)—An unconditional stop to the bombing of North Vietnam might bring one of two results, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, said Wednesday.

He said such action "may bring Ho Chi Minh to the negotiating table. If not, it may unify our people in support of the course our government is following."

The senator said the United States currently is divided about the course of the war and "we cannot hope to succeed unless there is unity of thought in our nation of the righteousness of our cause."

Midland Council Sets Tie To Anti-Pollution Group

Plans to join the state water and air pollution control commission were discussed when the Midland Borough Council met Wednesday night at the Borough building. The borough secretary was instructed to make necessary arrangements for obtaining membership in the commission.

This will give the community a voice in pollution control measures.

Mayor Eli G. Corak requested that the maintenance superintendent of the Midland Public School be contacted about the need to erect a fence at the west end of the 1st St. Playground.

He said it has been brought to his attention that children have been climbing on some of the equipment owned by the General Contractors of Midland to retrieve sports equipment. He urged parents to keep children from climbing on the machinery because they might get hurt or might damage the equipment while the fence is being erected. He said "No Trespassing" signs are posted at the area.

Raymond Presutti of the Traffic Committee said signs indicating "No Parking 12 noon until 9 p.m." are being erected on Virginia Ave. in front of the Veterans Memorial Pool. The signs will be erected by Matt Brozic of the street department and will be effective until after the pool closing in September.

This is being done to relieve traffic congestion in the area. Mayor Corak and Council endorsed plans to hold a Human Relations Workshop in Midland sometime in November. The all-day event will feature noted speakers on the subject of "Human Relations."

William Vinovich Sr., Council president, presided. He reported that 25 are enrolled in the senior lifesaving course at the swimming pool under the instruction of Clarence Grimm. He said the junior course will begin Monday and will last through Friday.

Auto Union Set Negotiations With American Motors

DETROIT (AP) — The labor contract tug of war is fully under way between the United Auto Workers union and Big Three automakers from whom it demands a share of profits and a guaranteed annual income.

After opening contract negotiations with the three biggest car manufacturers during the last three days, the UAW today began bargaining with American Motors Corp.

Three-year contracts covering nearly 700,000 union workers expire Sept. 6 at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. The AMC pact runs out on Oct. 16.

A broad sketch of the guaranteed annual income demand emerged from talks Wednesday. UAW negotiators said they plan to offer a model plan next Wednesday to GM.

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president, said the union is willing to attain the guaranteed income through a combination of existing Supplemental Unemployment Benefits, state unemployment compensation and "other sources." He did not specify the other sources.

GENIAL JULY

The Anglo-Saxons called July “the genial month.” And up to this day it still is — the perfect time for playing that popular summer sport known as guestmanship.

What are the rules of the game? Well, to rate high as a house guest, etiquette experts advise packing everything you need so there is no need to borrow anything during your stay.

The experts also suggest a surprise gift to help you break the ice. And one you might consider is flowers. We can send them ahead for you, leaving you free to carry your suitcase, tennis racquet and skin-diving gear. When you arrive at your host's home, just relax and be yourself.

At the end of your stay, pack carefully so that you leave nothing behind but a good impression. It's appropriate to express your appreciation about twenty-four hours after you are home. And the best way to do it... another bright bouquet or floral arrangement.

By the way, if you have any questions about the type of flowers you should send, stop in and see us. We'll be glad to help you in any way we can.

Police Use Dogs To Quell Racial Trouble In Erie

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Police, using K-9 dogs to quell a disturbance for the first time in this city's history, arrested eight youths Wednesday night in the second straight night of racial trouble.
Several cars were stoned and a section of the city's east side was cordoned off before about 20 policemen and the dogs moved in early today to quiet the area.
Violence broke out shortly before midnight after Mayor Louis J. Tullio had met with leaders of the Negro community in an effort to avert more violence.

Police said Wednesday's disturbance was a carry-over from Tuesday night, when they broke up a neighborhood crap game and trouble followed.
All eight youths arrested Wednesday night were charged with disorderly conduct and one, Walter Lindsay, 20, also was charged with obstructing an officer and assault and battery on an officer. Lindsay was injured while resisting arrest, police said, and was treated at a hospital for a scalp cut.
Abraham Lincoln was the first successful presidential candidate nominated by the Republican party.

Officers Check House Burglary On Mulberry St.

Burglars who ransacked a Mulberry St. home apparently escaped with only a radio, police said after an investigation Wednesday afternoon.

The entry at the home of John Fitch of 518 Mulberry St. was discovered by Mrs. George Tivis, a sister of Mrs. Fitch. She said the home was entered some time between 5 p. m. Tuesday and 3:30 p. m. yesterday during the family's absence.

Kitchen cupboards, dining-room drawers and clothes closets were ransacked, along with a filing box in the livingroom, officers said. Bed clothing was strewn about in an apparent search for money or valuables. A radio appeared to be the only item stolen, police said. Entry was gained by breaking a 12-x-12-inch pane of glass in the rear door.

Two cases of vandalism and minor theft also were reported. Tony Danzo of 336½ W. 6th St. told police Wednesday afternoon a cigaret lighter was stolen by a thief who ransacked his car while it was parked on W. 6th St. Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

A vandal broke a 30-x-14-inch pane of glass Wednesday about 11:50 in the Bell Appliance Co. storeroom at 1200 Pennsylvania Ave. Earl Lawrence, the owner, was notified and the opening was boarded up temporarily, officers said.

Man Sentenced In 'Reflex Death'

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — As they discussed breaking their engagement, Gisela Dinger told Wilfried Kamper she still loved him. He hugged her tight, kissed her and suddenly she was dead, he told the court.

A medical examiner described it as a "reflex death," similar to that caused by a rabbit punch. Kamper's attorney cited the case of a German army lieutenant who, returning to Frankfurt during World War II, hugged his girl friend so tight that he broke her neck.

The court reduced the charge today from causing intentional bodily injury with fatal consequences, which carries at least a three-year prison term, to negligent homicide.

Kamper, a 29-year-old printer, was sentenced to 21 months in prison.

Major Lines Objected Negro Trucker Obtains Long-Sought ICC Permit

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Joe Jones, a trucker whose dreams of hauling goods across the nation ran into federal roadblocks, has finally won his long fight with the government.

"I think it's the greatest thing that ever happened to a little man," said the 43-year-old Negro Wednesday after he learned the Interstate Commerce Commission will issue a permit for him to operate his long-sought trucking company.

The permit was issued over the protests of major truck lines.

For Jones, it ended years plagued with disappointments, mounting debts and constant battles with the government as well as with large truck firms.

An ICC examiner had recommended that Jones be denied a permit because he said a large number of existing trucking lines were prepared to offer the services Jones would provide. Jones is a disabled World War II veteran and the father of 11 children.

"I am a little man, and I think when a little man sticks in there and fights, a lot of people will come to his aid," he said.

He gained national attention last year when the Small Business Association loaned him $25,000—enough money to finance a firm, but the Interstate Commerce Commission denied him a permit to operate it.

Woman Ordered To Pay Support For Youngsters

PROSSER, Wash. (AP) — A Superior Court judge has awarded William Hinson of Richland, Wash., $100 a month child support from his ex-wife.

Hinson, who was divorced in 1963, winning the custody of his four children, had been holding down two jobs. He was earning $465 a month.

Meanwhile his ex-wife, Mrs. John Cashen, married a man who earns $1,350 a month.

Judge James J. Lawless said it was the first time he had ever ordered a wife to pay child support, but that considering the circumstances, "the settlement was modest."

Tax Plan Would Close Loopholes In Ohio, 2 Claim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The administration's tax increase for education bill might close loopholes in the sales tax law that would boost the measure's anticipated revenue from $300 million to about $500 million, two former state tax commissioners say.

They testified Wednesday before a Senate Ways and Means subcommittee. The group headed by Sen. Harry V. Jump R-13 Huron is considering revisions in the measure designed originally to produce $300 million over two years — all of it to be earmarked for education.

Former commissioners Stanley J. Bowers, Gerald Donahue and Emory Glander referred to language in the measure which redefines "manufacturing" to determine what purchases by businesses are entitled to the sales tax's so-called direct use exemption.

Court decisions have spread the exemptions to include many items over the years although some attorneys argue it was the original intent of the legislature to exempt only those items used directly in the manufacturing of a product.

The proposed new language would do just this, Glander said, noting that manufacturing would only include a process that "transforms or converts" an item into a different state from which it originally existed. "The only items that would be exempt under this language are those that become subject to the 3 per cent tax under the pending bill. They included such things as conveyor belts, lift trucks and other types of interplant transportation devices, gasoline, water to produce steam, generators, lighting equipment, and machinery used for repair and maintenance.

Navy Opens File On Earhart

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has made public its investigation file on the disappearance of aviatrix Amelia Earhart 30 years ago.

Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, vanished while flying across the Pacific, and there has been much speculation they were on a spying mission for the United States, were captured by the Japanese, and were executed or died in prison.

The Navy files conclude that after leaving Lae, New Guinea, they missed their destination, Howland Island, ran out of fuel and crashed into the sea.

The files contain a letter dated Jan. 18, 1945, from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover regarding a report from a serviceman of "unknown reliability" who reported he had overheard a conversation in English between two Japanese officers saying Miss Earhart was alive and being held in Tokyo. The serviceman said the conversation had occurred in a hotel in the Philippines before World War II.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bowing to pressure from Congress, the Army has revised its plan to reorganize the Reserves.

The original plan also called for reducing the Army National Guard paid-drill strength from 260,000 men to 240,000 men, but that figure has been revised upward again to 260,000.

The Army also added three Reserve combat brigades which it did not include in its original reorganization plan. It didn't say where the brigades will be located.

A chief complaint in Congress was the Army's original plan to confine the Army Reserve to a support role, giving the National Guard the combat function.

The revised plan was outlined by Army Secretary Stanley Resor in a letter to Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

When your doctor gives you a prescription, it applies to a specified condition at the time of diagnosis. Time, and a change in the state of your health, may alter your need of the drug or medicine. For this reason, your doctor must specify the number of times your pharmacist may refill the original prescription, if at all. TV For Hippies

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

New Yorkers Open 3-Set Show

By JERRY BUCK
NEW YORK (AP) — Down in the East Village two young men have latched onto television as a psychedelic medium and turned it into a groove tube for hippies.

Out of its screens pour a cornucopia of switched-on humor, put-down and music. "We like to think we're providing heads (hippies) with their own CBS," said Lane Sarason, one of the originators.

This experiment in hippie television, however, is neither network nor station, but a theater with three 23-inch sets where an audience pays $1.75 to watch a two-hour production put together by Sarason, 24, and Ken Shapiro, 25.

The project, called Channel One, Underground Television, premiered Monday night at the East 4th Street Theater and is shown once a night.

The audience the first night was estimated at 120 and the second night at 50.

Asked if they entered the business to make money, Shapiro said, "No, not really. It was just something we wanted to do." Sarason said, "It seemed like a good occupation."

"We didn't like what we were seeing on commercial television," Shapiro said, "and it's a medium you can do things with you can't do in the movies or on the stage."

Improvising, working with a small camera and a tape unit, and calling on the help of actor friends and musicians, they put the show together in four months. Shapiro said he hopes the show can run for a number of months before they have to work up another production.

For the most part the show satirizes television itself, sometimes superficially, sometimes devastatingly. Shapiro, a one-time child actor on the Milton Berle Show, brings his many years experience to the project.

1970 Goal Still Held

Ohio Astronauts Report On Moon Travel Project

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If an Ohioan is to be the first man on the moon, he will make the trip by 1970, says astronaut Neil A. Armstrong of Wapakoneta.

Despite the tragic Apollo fire which claimed the lives of three fellow astronauts and the time lost on the project, "the delay will get us along the road to the moon much faster," he added.

Armstrong, here Wednesday night for the second International Symposium on Nuclear Energy in Aerospace, told reporters at a news conference that although "the accident cost us valuable time... we hope to gain some of that back by making up on safety factors."

When asked about reports that he wants to be the first man on the moon, Armstrong said:

"Keep the rumor going. I'd enjoy being the first man back."

Armstrong, command pilot of the Gemini 8 mission, said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration still hopes to launch its first lunar exploration Apollo flight early next year. He explained that beefed up efforts to make space flights safer also will make them more efficient, increasing the possibility that man will reach the moon in 1970.

Some 450 scientists, engineers and technicians attending Wednesday's session heard a report that a lightweight unit to reclaim human wastes for space travelers has been perfected.

The system, using radioisotopes as its heat source, is capable of reclaiming 93 per cent of the water in body wastes and changing it into potable water.

"This is the first known time that an aerospace life support system has been thermally powered by a radioisotope heat source," said Albert B. Heard and Courtney A. Metzger of the Aerospace Medical Research Laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

"Longtime aerospace missions planned for the future dictate the recovery of potable water for drinking and for reconstituting dried food. This water will be recovered from urine, perspiration and the vapors expelled through the crewmen's breathing, the two space scientists said in a report.

LISBON — William A. Mellott, 17, of 225 W. 8th St., East Liverpool, lost the right to drive for 60 days following a juvenile traffic hearing Tuesday at the Courthouse here on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Ohio's Turnpike Gets Safe Rating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike, which sweeps across 240 miles in the northern part of the state may be the safest highway in Ohio, a research report shows.

The 1965 turnpike accident rate was 87.7 mishaps per 100 million vehicle miles, according to Robert Cecellio, a civil engineering graduate student at Ohio State University.

Cecellio, a student in OSU's transportation accident research graduate education training program, said the figure compares with a rate of 110 accidents per 100 million vehicle miles on Ohio's Interstate Highway System.

The accident rate on the state's rural highways is much higher, he said, or 267 mishaps per 100 million vehicle miles.

Heart Patients Offered Booklet

LISBON — The Heart Association office at 43 N. Park Ave. is offering a booklet which will interest heart disease sufferers — particularly farmers.

Mrs. Margaret Violand, director, said the booklet is available upon request.

She said cardiac research shows that work and moderate exercise are good for almost everyone, including people with heart disease, "but it is important not to overload the equipment — this applies to the farmer as well as to farm machinery."

The booklet says a person's physical capacity depends on many things — age, health and physique, for example.

Emphasis is given a check list of nine suggestions to help heart patients save energy and perform their work.

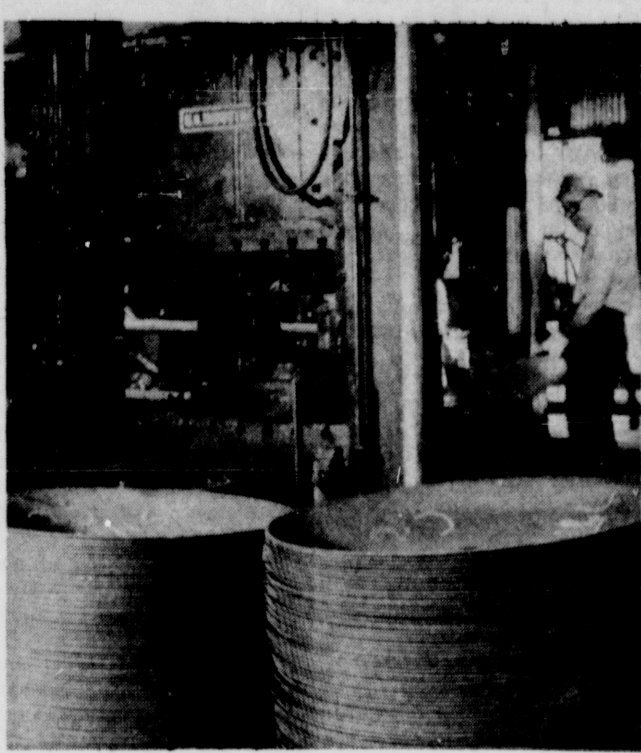

California citrus growers estimate it takes about 1,250 glasses of irrigation water to produce one glass of orange juice.

Crucible Uses New Press

PITTSBURGH — An ultra-precise press is the latest addition to Crucible Steel Co.'s renovated agricultural steel products facility.

The 250-ton press provides closer precision in gang punching bolt and shaft holes in discs and colters.

In announcing start-up of the new equipment, Product Manager Bin Jones said, "The new gang punch offers advantages for both the farmer and the agricultural equipment maker. It is a more exact tool than the one it replaces, and every hole now is precisely where the equipment manufacturer wants it. This improves his production efficiency. And the farmer benefits because the new machine cuts down unwanted wobbling or play in the disc."

They're Hot Off The Press!

CRUCIBLE also recently added a 500-ton hydraulic forming press that extends the size and weight range of Crucible's discs and makes a smoother, more uniform product.

Jones commented that these two presses at the Midland Works, plus a new hump shear that speeded the slicing of steel strip into lengths from which discs and colters are formed and a new progressive die for stamping out shapes and shin plates for plows, are "evidence of Crucible's continued willingness to make the investment necessary to keep fully up-to-date."

"We've been in this business well over a hundred years, and we're as interested in developing better, more uniform agricultural steel products today as when we started," Jones added.

Closing Set Monday For Route 558 Work

State Route 558 will be closed to through traffic about 1.5 miles south of Salem Monday to allow structure work to be carried out.

Division 11 maintenance forces will install a large pipe culvert to replace a narrow structure on the route. Work will take about one week to 10 days for completion, highway department officials said.

Signs will be posted at Franklin Square and at Salem warning motorists of the closing. State Route 45 can be used for through traffic in the area.

Vietnam Economy Hit

SAIGON (AP) — Rising food prices have given the South Vietnamese economy "quite a jolt" in the last two weeks, an economic source said today.

Some prices have gone up almost 30 per cent while over-all prices are up 5 per cent.

The price inflation comes after several months of relative economic stability. U.S. and Vietnamese economists are not quite sure what is causing the present flutter. But they insist that the increases, although unexpected, will level off and that there may even be some slight declines.

Beer Shutoff Bill Advanced

By ROBERT E. MILLER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Youthful rioters at Ohio summer resorts would be deprived of their beer and liquor under a bill soon to be signed into law by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The House-passed measure sailed through the Ohio Senate Wednesday but must now go back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments. Sponsors said however, they expect it to reach the governor in a few days.

Under the measure, the governor would have authority to suspend the licenses of permit-holders for 24-72 hours and could extend suspensions longer if conditions called for it.

The emergency measure will become effective on signing by the governor and will be in effect to head off possible trouble during the Labor Day holiday at such previously hit areas as Indian Lake and Geneva-on-the-Lake, sponsors said.

Urging passage, Sen. Robin T. Turner R-14 Marion said such a bill might have headed off riots in previous years at the Indian Lake resort near Bellefontaine "because the bar owners refused to close until the town was torn apart."

In other developments on a fast moving legislative day, the House passed and sent to the Senate a comprehensive bill creating a state board to control air pollution and giving it broad powers to set regulations and enforce them.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess held a news conference and confirmed that legislative, administration, and church officials have discussed a possible program of state aid to parochial schools. But he emphasized that "nothing specific has been discussed."

Big industry, business, and banking officials testified against various provisions in the administration's $252 million tax hike bill. They told a Senate subcommittee that language in the bill would close certain sales tax loopholes and produce $200 million from manufacturers over and above revenue anticipated from the bill originally.

House leaders described Aug. 15 as "the earliest possible date" the assembly can end working sessions but said that when it does, it will recess until sometime next year instead of taking final adjournment.

Board Names Caretaker At Chester Park

Four additional picnic tables were approved for purchase when the Chester City Park Commission met at the park Wednesday night.

James Lee was appointed caretaker. His trailer was moved into the park and installed and he will be paid $100 per month, plus utilities.

The fire department was asked to water down the grounds to alleviate a dust problem.

The possibility of Sunday night church services at the park also was discussed.

Members agreed to inaugurate a series of Tuesday night dances in addition to the present Saturday night events. King Tut and His Royal Subjects will provide the music.

Harold Dickey presided.

Chester Renews Six-Day Delivery For Parcel Post

Postmaster Robert H. Edwards today announced that parcel post deliveries in Chester will be expanded from five to six days a week, effective immediately.

This is in line with a recent directive from Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, following the signing of the Post Office Department appropriations bill by President Johnson. The legislation, Edwards said, contains an $8.5 million item for the restoration of 6-day-a-week delivery, cut back in May 1964 as an economy measure.

Nearly 5,000 cities are affected, Edwards said. He pointed out the "improved service will remove an inequity for many businesses and residential routes."

Venice, Italy, has some 150 canals and more than 400 bridges.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I chuckled when I read your typical Landers reply to the woman who married a handsome man and ended up lonely and miserable. You said, "Marrying for looks is a lot like buying wax fruit. You can starve to death looking at it."

I'm something of an authority on this subject, since I've had both types. My first husband was so good looking I could scarcely get him away from the mirror to go to work. My second husband was an ugly little runt. I'm sure now that I picked No. 2 for his ugliness, having been completely soured on beautiful people.

Now I realize that looks had nothing to do with either of my marriages. Just because a man is ugly does not mean he will be faithful, considerate or kind. (The runt cheated more than the Adonis.)

If I marry again I will pay no attention to a man's looks. I'll judge him strictly on the basis of what we have in common, his character, maturity and, most of all, his appreciation for me. — TWICE DECEIVED.

Dear Twice: I hope all the teen-age girls who see your letter will learn something from it.

Dozens of gals who write to me say they are headover-heels in love and then they go into raptures over the guy's looks. They don't mention one word about character, maturity or the way he treats a female.

The qualities to look for in a mate are the very ones you mentioned. Thanks a heap.

Come Home, Sonny

Dear Ann: Three years ago my daughter and her husband had a big fight and he walked out on her. They are now divorced and my daughter went to live on the West Coast.

When my daughter left she asked me to take her little boy. He was only 6 months old then and a sickly child, at that. I said yes on the condition she would promise not to ask for him later. She agreed to let me raise him to manhood.

In the three years my daughter has been away she never has returned to see the boy. He has become very attached to me and calls me "Mommy."

Last week my daughter called to say she is getting married to a doctor who lost his wife two years ago. The doctor had no children and he is eager to have this boy. I reminded my daughter of her promise and she said she is sorry to break her word but she has changed her mind.

This boy is my whole life and it will kill me to part with him. Please tell me what I can do to keep him. Is the law on my side?—HEARTSICK.

Dear Heartsick: The child is hers, and the law is on her side. Of course she should not have made such a foolish promise, and it is wrong to go back on one's word, but a larger issue is at stake here and I hope you will see it that way.

There are many children who need the love and care you can give. Call the Family Service Agency and make plans to take a foster child in your home.

Confidentially

To Green Grass Blues: Sometimes the grass looks greener on the other side of the fence because the people over there take better care of it. If you will be honest with yourself you will admit you have not been the best wife and mother in the world. Pull up your socks and work harder to fulfill your responsibilities. The rewards can be tremendous.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Silk lamp shades are so expensive and they will get dirty.

I experimented several years ago with one I was going to discard if it couldn't be salvaged by washing — and here is the way I've washed all my fabric shades since then.

I make some suds in the bath tub with a mild detergent and cool water. Then I put in a couple of dirty silk shades and roll them over and over until thoroughly wet. Next I gently scrub dirty spots on the edges with a soft brush or wash cloth.

At this point, some shades with glued down hems will begin to look hopeless. Never fear — after they are dry the edges can be reglued.

Drain the tub and close the shower curtain. Turn on a gentle spray of cold water from the shower to rinse. Be sure to get all the detergent out. The shades will now look like a saggy, baggy elephant, but the fabric will shrink as they dry.

Tie a string around the cross wire at the top of the shade and either suspend it from the shower rod, or take it outside and tie to the clothesline. Let it drip dry.

Last of all, glue back any edges that may have come unglued and congratulate yourself on saving money by making the old shades look new again.

Caution: Don't leave them soaking too long. If the phone rings, lift them out of the water.

ALICE SPAULDING.

P.S. I assumed everyone washed fabric lamp shades, but yesterday I went shopping with a friend who was going to replace five shades. When I told her about this, she went home and tried it.

This morning she called and said, "I love you. You saved me $30.00 yesterday." How about that?

DEAR HELOISE: My son is stationed overseas and his military address is not likely to change for some time.

So I had some name stickers made with his full overseas address for my use.

It is so much easier for me just to stick one of these on his letters rather than writing out the address which was always hard for me to remember.

I also mailed him some to send to his friends.

MRS. J. McKENNA.

DEAR HELOISE: What does one do to keep the wick from disappearing in those candle warmers that come with coffee servers, casseroles, etc. The wax keeps melting up around the wick until the wick disappears, the flame goes out and there's no longer anything left to light!

I've tried pouring the melted wax off, but it doesn't work too well — drips all over. Any suggestions?

A READER.

I too have tried to salvage some of these short candles without much success.

I had some squat patio candles in colored glasses melt and haven't yet figured out how to fix them.

If anyone else had this problem and solved it, drop us a line in care of this paper. We'd love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

Shannon's 2-Run Shot Beats Bucs, 4-3

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
A week ago Minnesota's rapping Twins arrived in Chicago to challenge the White Sox American League lead in a four-game series.

A split kept Eddie Stanky's crew on top, and now it's California's turn to take a shot at the leaders.

Sam McDowell softened the White Sox up Wednesday night with a six-hitter as Cleveland stopped Chicago 5-3. It was the only game scheduled in the American League and shaved the Sox' lead to 1½ games over Detroit, two games over Minnesota and four over California.

In the only National League game played Wednesday, Mike Shannon cracked a two-run eighth-inning homer that lifted first-place St. Louis to a 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

The Angels bring a six-game winning streak into Chicago tonight and will have their new ace, George Brunet, ready to face the White Sox.

California spent much of May in the American League cellar but since June 7, Bill Rigney's team has spun off a 25-8 record and zoomed six spots in the standings.

THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1967

Brunet, who dropped nine straight after winning the season's opener, is 6-2 during the hot streak and 7-11 over-all. Joel Horlen, 10-2, opposes the Angels.

Stanky used six pitchers trying to beat the Indians Wednesday, but Cleveland scored five runs in the first three innings and that was enough for McDowell, 6-7.

Sudden Sam, 6-7, threaded his way through trouble and relied on his strikeout pitch for the big out. He walked the bases full in the fifth inning but then struck out Tom McCraw and Tommie Agee for two of his eight strikeouts.

Max Alvis ignited a two-run Indian rally in the first with a double and then cracked his 11th home run of the year in the second.

Tommy John, 8-6, was knocked out in the first inning and took the loss.

Shannon's eighth-inning shot brought the Cardinals from behind and enabled St. Louis to open a four-game bulge over Chicago in the National League race.

The Pirates had knocked out Dick Hughes and seized the lead in the top of the eighth on Gene Alley's two-run homer, a triple by Jerry May and Manny Mota's sacrifice fly.

But Orlando Cepeda opened the Cardinals' eighth with a single, knocking out Steve Blass, the Pittsburgh starter. Juan Pizarro retired Tim McCarver before Pete Mikkelsen relieved and Shannon cracked his sixth home run.

Green Bay Opens Training Minus Taylor, Hornung

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, the twin trademarks of Green Bay greatness, headed south instead of north as the Packers prepared to open training camp without them for the first time in 10 years.

But quarterback Bart Starr, the most valuable player in the National Football League in 1966, is back after signing his 12th Green Bay contract Wednesday.

Drills for 37 Packer rookies began today, with 38 veterans reporting by Saturday, as NFL and American Football League clubs began preparing for a season that will run until the All-Star games in late January.

Both Taylor and Hornung, who helped the Packers to five division titles and four world championships, will be wearing the colors of the New Orleans Saints, the NFL's newest team. Taylor played out his option at Green Bay to sign with the Saints and Hornung, bothered by a pinched nerve, was taken in the expansion draft.

Starr, who led the Packers to the world title last year, admits the two will be missed, but said the Packers still will have an effective blocking and running game with veterans Ben Wilson, Elijah Pitts and last year's bonus twins, Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

Coach Joe Kuharich of the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL said he assumed that he would be without one of the Eagles' long-time backfield stars, Timmy Brown.

"Until Timmy gets back here and clarifies his position, we're going under the assumption he won't be with us," Kuharich said.

But Brown, who reportedly has been offered a television and motion picture contract, said "I will report to training camp and play for the Eagles this year," when contacted Tuesday in Hawaii. He said if the television and movie plans work out, the contract would not be effective until next January.

The Los Angeles Rams still expected quarterback Roman Gabriel to be on hand as they opened camp today for rookies and selected veterans. Gabriel's return apparently hinges on dismissal of a $200,000 suit brought by him against the Rams and Oakland Raiders of the AFL.

He contended the Raiders breached a contract he signed with them last year and that the Rams interfered with his contractual relations with Oakland. Phil Verleger, attorney for the Rams, said he had been assured by Gabriel's attorney, Edward Masry, that he would ask for dismissal of the suit.

Veteran Charlie Hennigan will be one of those missing when the San Diego Chargers' veterans report this week. The 32-year-old flanker, who underwent a knee operation before he was obtained on waivers from the Houston Oilers, failed a physical examination. He set an AFL mark in 1964 by catching 101 passes.

Intrepid Posts 4th Straight Win

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Barring a mishap, Intrepid, a sleek 12-meter sloop skippered by Bus Mosbacher, appears a cinch to defend the America's Cup against the challenge of Australia's Dame Pattie in September.

Intrepid posted her fourth straight victory Wednesday in the second round-robin series of the U.S. observation trials, defeating American Eagle.

Intrepid built a one-minute lead at the halfway mark of the 24.3-mile course and then pulled away to win by 3 minutes, 45 seconds.

Constellation, the 1964 America's Cup winner, squared her observation trial record 2-2 by defeating Columbia, the rebuilt 1958 winner, by 2:13. Columbia was left with a 2-2 mark.

Columbia was to meet American Eagle, loser of four straight, and Constellation was to go against Intrepid today.

Walker Threatens Bucs With Fines

ST. LOUIS — Manager Harry Walker of the Pittsburgh Pirates has threatened his players with fines if they continue their lackadaisical play.

Walker held a closed-door meeting with the players following a 4-3 loss to St. Louis Wednesday night and told them they would be fined $100 for mental lapses on the field, especially when running the bases.

His remarks were directed particularly to the hit-and-run and at Matty Alou, who was easily doubled off first for the second time in two weeks because he ran with his head down.

Alou, the National League's leading batter last year, was doubled off first base when Maury Wills fouled out to third baseman Mike Shannon near the Pittsburgh dugout in the first inning.

"There is no excuse for a player running with his head down on the hit and run," Walker said. "He can still watch the batter, and if the ball is going up in the air the runner should know enough to stop."

Mike Shannon's homer and single drove in three runs to pace the Cardinals victory that dropped Pittsburgh 8½ games out of first place.

Shannon's grab of Bill Mazeroski's smash down the line in the ninth saved the victory for Al Jackson, whose record moved to six and four. With the speedy Roberto Clemente on first, Shannon lunged for the ball and made a strong throw to start the game-ending double play.

"That had to be the best play I've made at third," Shannon said, "especially in that situation."

"I can't really say I'm enjoying third base, but I want to help the club any way I can," Shannon went on. "I always thought I was a pretty good outfielder, but I don't have that kind of confidence at third."

That, Shannon said, is why he is so grateful to Manager Red Schoendienst.

"There weren't too many people in St. Louis over the winter who thought Mike Shannon could play third," Shannon said.

"When Red had confidence in me like that and it turns out good, it makes me feel good."

But Schoendienst doesn't think moving Shannon to third was too risky. "Heck, you take a chance getting out of bed in the morning," he said.

Shannon's two-run homer in the eighth off loser Pete Mikkelsen erased the lead Pittsburgh took earlier that inning. Gene Alley ruined starter Dick Hughes' three-hitter by smashing a two-run home run into the center field stands. Jerry May followed with a triple and scored on a sacrifice fly.

Nicklaus Shares 1st With Devlin In British Open

By THOMAS A. REEDY

Associated Press Sports Writer

HOYLAK, England (AP) — Defending champion Jack Nicklaus fired a three-under-par 69 and moved into a tie with Australia's Bruce Devlin today for the early second-round lead in the British Open Golf Tournament. Each had a 36-hole score of 140.

Nicklaus, a strong 11-5 favorite to repeat, fired a 71 Wednesday.

Devlin, the rangy onetime plumber who won the rich Carling's Open last year, added a second 70 over the rugged, par 72 Hoylake course.

Roberto De Vicenzo, 44-year-old Argentinian, came in with a 71 for 141.

Olive Clark, 22-year-old Briton just embarking on his professional career after a fine record as an amateur, shot a 73 to go with his opening 70 and was at 143 in fine challenging position.

No Briton has won the British Open since Max Faulker did it in 1951.

R. C. Vines of Australia fired a tremendous 69 but he was already struggling from a first-round 82 so his chances of surviving the cutoff were doubtful.

Bob Charles of New Zealand, the 1963 British Open champion, was in trouble of missing the cutoff with a 76 for a total of 151. Jean Garaalde of France seemed certain to make it with 76-71-147.

Bert Yancey of Philadelphia, Pa., added a one-over-par 73 to his 75 of yesterday and finished the two rounds with a total of 148. He has to sweat it out for several hours to see whether he had qualified for the last two rounds.

The field of 130 enjoyed its second straight day of flawless golf weather, quite unusual for this Merseyside area that indulges in fickle wind and rain. Wednesday's opening round of par-busting came in temperatures up in the 80s with 93 percent humidity and the same conditions held today.

Bob Falkenberg, the ex-Wimbledon tennis champion from Los Angeles and Rio De Janeiro, shot himself right out of the tournament with a -75 to go with his first-round 81 for 156.

Continued good scoring gave early indications that the cutoff for the 55 low and ties to continue on into the final 36 holes Friday and Saturday might be around 148 or 149.

Going into today's round, Nicklaus was somewhat disturbed about an opening-round 71.

It was not good enough.

"I'm coming up with my putter," the blond bomber said.

The U. S. Open Champion, also defending his 1966 British Open crown, went off the sun-baked 6,995-yard par-72 Hoylake links Wednesday and promptly repaired to the putting green.

Nicklaus' 71 was three shots off the 68 shot by leader Lionel Platts of England. Four players had 69s and eight, including Masters champion Gay Brewer of Dallas, Tex., shot 70s. At 71 were seven others besides Nicklaus.

Altogether 22 players broke par of 72 and seven more equalled it, a feat that has never happened to Hoylake.

Nicklaus said he thought low scoring would be hard to accomplish, but he said that before he went out for the first round. After that, he soaked up the sun, enjoyed the lack of wind, and worried only about the finess of the game. That's why he wound up on a putting green when others were on their way to dinner.

"Putts I often make wouldn't go down," said Nicklaus.

He figured out he was either raising his putter or his head.

Reynolds, Myers Pace Seiferth's Colt Win

Don Reynolds twirled a three-hit shutout as Seiferth's cooled off Maxim's of Salem, 3-0, Wednesday in the Colt League.

Seiferth's scored a run in the first inning and two in the fifth to give Reynolds enough edge.

Fred Bowen led a six-hit attack with two doubles while Dan Myers drove in all three runs with a double and single.

Roger James made several outstanding plays at shortstop for Salem. Jim Clott was the losing pitcher. Paxton had two of Salem's three hits.

Sabotin Gains Stroke Lead In Ohio Amateur

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP)—Modest Lalu Sabotin, the Warren fire captain who wears the state public links crown, set out today in quest of the Ohio Amateur title.
The 37-year-old Sabotin registered his second straight 72 Wednesday for a 36-hole total of 144 and a one-stroke advantage in the state golfing classic.
Sabotin snared the lead by rolling in a 10-foot putt for a deuce on the final hole. He promptly retreated to the Beechmont Country Club practice green.
"I want to shoot better than this. I'm just not putting well," Sabotin complained.
The rangy, dark-haired power hitter who won the Publinx in 1963 and again last year, three-putted three holes and finished with five bogeys and four birds.
The last birdie gave him his thin edge over Fritz Schmidt, an engineer from Columbus, and Dick Guardiola, a 30-year-old public relations man from Cleveland.
Playing in his second Amateur, Sabotin could become the second public links player to cop the premier event. Carl

Publinx Lead Is Shared By Toledo Man

SEATTLE (AP)—Scores of the country's top pay-as-you-play golfers headed for the bread-and-butter cutoff point here today with a veteran from Toledo, Ohio, and a newcomer from Hawaii leading the pack.
The field of 150 will be trimmed to the low 60 scorers, plus ties, after the second 18-hole round in the four-day, 72-hole National Amateur Public Links Championship.
Hubert Farmer, 42-year-old diemaker now in his 12th Publinx tourney, and Art Fujita, a school ring salesman from Honolulu, toured Seattle's tricky Jefferson Park Municipal Golf Course with identical two-under-par 35-33-68's to share the lead after Tuesday's opening 18 holes.
The only other par-buster on the heavily wooded, 6,329-yard par 36-34-70 layout was M. J. Zimmerman, 20-year-old Dayton University student from Kettering, Ohio. He shot a 37-32-69.
Dave Ojala, 1966 runnerup from Two Harbors, Minn., who had a 67 in practice Monday, wound up with a 39-39-78. An other early favorite, 1960 Publinx champ Verne Callison of Sacramento, Calif., shot 36-36-72.

Advances In Tournament

Midland's Nahas Market advanced in the HIHS Tournament at Hammondsville Wednesday with a 14-7 victory over Golden Star of East Liverpool.
Terry Dick and Rick Migliore shared the pitching duties for Midland and Nick Ranelli led the hitting attack with a double and two singles for a perfect night while Ed DiCicco smashed a home run.
Rick Campbell was the losing pitcher and was relieved by Briggs. Francis homered for East Liverpool.
Midland will now meet HIHS team No. 1 Friday night while Vernon Del of East Liverpool plays Malvern Thursday night. The winners of these two games meet Saturday for the championship.

Walker Holding Out With Lions

DETROIT (AP)—It's contract-signing time at the Detroit Lions camp and at least one veteran said he could be a holdout.
"I'm going to try to get everything I can," linebacker Wayne Walker said Wednesday. "We're not that far apart, but we are far enough apart for me to be a holdout."
Russ Thomas, general manager of the National Football League club, said the situation was about the same as in previous years, but he declined to go down a roster and name those signed and those unsigned.

England May Face Tennis World Alone

By GEOFFREY MILLER
MONTDORF - LES - BAINES, Luxembourg (AP)—England might rebel against the International Lawn Tennis Federation, ruling body of the sport, and decide to hold open tennis championships without sanction.
The ILTF rejected Wednesday, by 139 votes to 83 a British plan for open tournaments in which professionals and amateurs would compete for a two-year experimental period.
Herman David, chairman of the All-England Club which stages the Wimbledon championships, commented in London: "If progress cannot be made by constitutional means, we shall have to think about achieving it by unconstitutional means."
That aroused speculation among the delegates to the ILTF annual meeting about what would happen if the big tennis powers decided to go it alone and hold open tournaments.
Dr. Giorgio de Stefani of Italy, newly elected president of the ILTF, declared "I cannot believe that any country would defy the ILTF and stage an open tournament. If it did, its players would be banned from competing in other ILTF countries. And then, what would we gain?"
In the vote Wednesday, the United States and Australia supported the British proposal for open tourneys, along with Austria, Canada, Jamaica, New Zealand, South Africa, Sweden and Switzerland.

Big Success, Lisbon Lions Say Of Fair

LISBON — Lions Club officers said the opening night of their annual street fair — Wednesday through Saturday — was a big success — "better than for the first two days last year."
Seventy-three units took part in the 80-minute parade which moved on Lincoln Way fromritchard Ave. to Beaver St. In the judges' stand at the Square were George M. Nace Jr., Gary Pike and James D. Primm Jr., and Bill Hiseox, fair chairman and announcer. Al Burson was parade chairman.
Prize winners follow by categories:
Baton twirlers — East Palestine Jane-ettes, $15; Lisbon volunteer Fire Department majorettes, $10, and Wellsville Reactor-ettes, $5.
Floats — Toronto Lions Club, $15; Lisbon Rotary Club, $10, and Lisbon Lions, $5.
Clowns — Pleasant View (Pa.) Fire Department, $15; Lisbon Jaycees, $10, and Lisbon Lions, $5.
Best - decorated bicycles — Rick Davis, $10, and Jack Bowser and Jeff Whitehill, tied for second, $5 each.
Lisbon and Beaver Local High School bands and the county 4-H bands marched and played.
The street fair is set up on S. Market St. from the Courthouse to Washington St. and around the southeast corner of the Square from Market to E. Lincoln Way.

Ex-Michigan Star Buntin Is Arrested

DETROIT (AP)—Life seems to have crumbled to pieces for Bill Buntin, former basketball star at the University of Michigan.
Buntin today is free on bond on a bad check charge. On Monday, in what was possibly a final effort to carve out a career in professional sports, Buntin was dropped from the roster of the National Football League's Detroit Lions because of a bad knee.
Buntin was trying out with the Lions as a tight end, after the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association released him just before the start of the 1966-67 season.
Last November, his 25-year-old wife Evelynna started divorce proceedings against the 6-foot-7, 25-year-old Buntin.
"Everything seems to have gone to pot," Buntin said after his arraignment in Detroit Recorder's Court Wednesday on a charge of writing a check for $75 with insufficient funds to cover it.
"I never meant to rook anybody," he said. "I just used bad judgment."
Police said Buntin cashed the check to pay a bill at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Detroit. They said they delayed serving the warrant, first issued Nov. 29, 1966, hoping Buntin would square himself with the hotel.

Cassius Clay Refused California License

By BILL STALL
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Heavyweight boxer Cassius Clay was denied Wednesday a license to fight a bout in California to benefit poor children. Negro and white, in the South.
The California Athletic Commission voted 4-0 against Clay's application for a boxing license, with one member abstaining.
Clay, sitting calmly and seriously before the commission, had no immediate comment, except to say that he would not try to hold the fight outside California.
Clay was stripped of his title by the World Boxing Association and the powerful New York State Athletic Commission after he was convicted in a federal court in Houston, on a charge of refusing to be drafted into the armed forces.
Clay faces a five-year prison sentence if his appeal of the conviction is denied.

Negroes Protest Driver's Arrest In Jersey Town

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Rampaging Negroes besieged a police station and demonstrated at City Hall late Wednesday and early today after a Negro taxicab driver was arrested.
Rocks and firebombs were hurled at the police station.
A chanting, jeering crowd estimated by police at 200 persons assembled at the 4th Precinct police station in a predominantly Negro area about a mile west of downtown then moved downtown before police dispersed the group.
It was the second recent outburst in this sprawling city in the metropolitan New York area. Nineteen persons, nine of them policemen, were hurt early Saturday during a battle involving Black Muslims on the street separating Newark and East Orange.
Newark Police Director Dominick Spina said police did not battle any groups Wednesday night, but did disperse a crowd which assembled at City Hall. "It was an isolated incident," he said of the arrest, "and teenagers gathered and were incited — we don't know who incited them."
A spokesman for Newark Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio said there was no riot and incidents of looting in the area were unrelated.

District Man Injured In Crash On Route 170

A district man was injured Wednesday when his auto struck another car while both vehicles were eastbound on State Route 170 near the intersection with Route 30.
Frederick Burton, 38, RD 3 was treated at City Hospital for a large scalp laceration and an injury of the left arm.
He was hurt when the 1963 sedan he was operating struck a 1965 coach driven by Clarence L. Saltsman, 64, of RD 2, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.
Saltsman had slowed for two unidentified autos when his auto was struck by Burton, who was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Henry Clay entered the House of Representatives in 1811 and was elected speaker on the first day of the session.

Strike Looms For Goodyear

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The largest of the rubber industry's Big Five producers, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., will be struck shortly after midnight tonight if progress is not made in negotiations between Goodyear and the United Rubber Workers, according to union officials.
No progress has been reported yet.
The strike would throw another 21,000 URW members into the picket lines, making a total of 76,000 on strike.
Struck April 21 were Uniroyal, Inc., Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. and B. F. Goodrich Co. General Tire and Rubber Co. was struck June 21.
A URW Local 2 spokesman at the Akron plant of Goodyear said strike captains have been named and pickets have been assigned in case the shutdown comes. If Local 2 walks out, 8,300 URW members will be affected here.
However, Goodyear has four tire-making subsidiaries in four states that would not be affected by a strike.
Goodyear has been operating on a day-to-day basis since the other companies were struck.

Line Failure Darkens Hamilton's West Side

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A $150 potential transformer burned out Wednesday and knocked out power in Hamilton's West Side and downtown areas for half an hour.
Earl Brush, public utilities director, said the transformer caused a circuit breaker to open in a $6 million generator at the municipal light plant.
George Westinghouse was 23 when he invented the air brake.

Junior Editors Quiz on
LIGHTNING BUGS

QUESTION: Why do lightning bugs light up?

ANSWER: Lightning bugs, often called fireflies, are neither true bugs nor flies, but a special kind of beetle. Little heat is given off by the light they produce, which because of this is called cold light and is of great interest to scientists. The light is formed by a group of five chemicals in the firefly's body held together by a chemical bond. But another chemical may be released, which will break the bond, allowing the chemicals to react together to produce light. The flashing lights enable fireflies to find each other during mating season. As the picture shows, these fireflies have wings, but there are wingless insects in Europe called glowworms, which also give off similar light. Most dramatic of the fireflies is the large railway beetle of Paraguay in South America. It gives out a red light from one part of the body and green lights from other parts, suggesting railway signals. It's fun to chase fireflies and watch them flash inside a jar, but you're likely to make a grab at one and find him winking from some distance away.

Brenda Gray of Baltimore, Md., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
